S. M. Campbell reports Danville court day last Monday as being rather a dull one. About 75 cattle on the market of a mixed quality, ranging in price from 24 cents to 32 cents, m'k cows from $25 to $40 per head.
Only one mule colt buyer on the market, but only got a few.
Lots of plug horses on the market but not many sales made.

The home of Mrs. M. L.
Searcy was the scene of a merry little party on Thursday afternoon, August 15, from 3 to 6, the occasion being in honor of Mrs. Searcy's little granddaughter, Miss Louise Searcy, of Nera Visa, New Mexico. At the appointed hour eighteen of her little friends assembled and most happily passed the hours,
as they engaged in childish games.
At five o'clock the way was led to the dining room where iced cakes, bonbons, mints and other sweets were served.

The color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations, as well as in the refreshments. At six o'clock when the little party broke each one voted Miss Louise a most charming little hostess, declaring they had never had a better time.

On the morning of the third day of the Washington County Fair there will be a ring for Jersey cows which should bring out a large number of competitors. The total premium is $25 divided into four. All cows competing for these premiums must be taken to the fair on the evening before the day on which the ring is shown and milked in the presence of the judges.

They are to be milked again in the ring the following day and the milk saved and tested as to butter fat. General appearance and quantity of milk is to count 50 percent and butter fat 50 percent. Cows which are not brought to the grounds on the evening of the second day to be milked in the presence of the judges will positively not be allowed to be exhibited.

Deaths

Mr. William Holderman a well known citizen of the county died at his home on Sunday last after a short illness of flux. The deceased was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and seven children. The burial was at the old Oak burying ground and Rev. J. L. Brewer preached the funeral.

Mr. Eli Mobley an old citizen of the county died at his home on Tick Creek about 5 miles from Springfield, on last Saturday of typhoid fever. The deceased was about 60 years of age and was an honest and hard working man. He is survived by a wife and eight children.
The funeral took place at Mack ville.

The eighteen months old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sallee died Sunday and was buried at Bethlehem on Monday.

Death of Miss Hays.

A particularly sad death and one which was a severe blow to her relatives and many friends in this county was that of Miss Sallie Grant Hays which occurred on last Friday afternoon at the Jewish Hospital, Louisville. Miss Hays had been in bad health for some time and a few weeks ago submitted to a surgical operation and was thought to be recovering but a week ago suffered a relapse and the second operation proved fatal.

Miss Hays was a daughter of Mr. James B. Hays of the Western part of this county and was 27 years of age. She was a young woman of charming personality and her bright and sunny disposition made her friends everywhere. Her death will be the cause of deep regret in a large circle of friends and will be a sad blow to her aged father who has the sincere sympathy of all in his sad bereavement.

The funeral took place at Mt.

"We never regret of eating too little." Warnings of the few sales of Thomas Jefferson, president of the United States, and the rape applies to every one without exception during this hot weather, because it is hard for food, even in small quantities, to be digested when the blood is at a high temperature. At this season we should eat sparingly and properly. We should also help the stomach as much as possible by the use of a little Kodol for indigestion

A GREAT EXHIBITION

The Kentucky State Fair Offers $25,000 in Prizes.

EVERY CLASSIFICATION COMPLETE

Fifteen Departments Will Give to the Visitors the Most Attractive Displays.

There is a disposition upon the part of the general public to display a universal feeling when the announcement is made of plans for a new exposition. In America, as in the other country, they have been coming rather fast and late, and the experience of the managers of the Jamestown Exposition lends full weight to the argument which favors having them now and then. This is not the case, however, with State Fairs. Like Emerson's brook, they go on and on forever, the interest increasing as each succeeding exhibition approaches. Certainly this is true of the Kentucky State Fair. From every section of the commonwealth, and, indeed, from many sections of other commonwealths, there is shown a striking desire to make the 1907 Kentucky State Fair more than twice as big as that of 1906.

The State institution, created by the General Assembly, operated by the State Board of Agriculture and supported in a large measure by a general appropriation, this year of friendliness to be commended. The managers of the State Fair are building it along most liberal lines so far as all exhibit departments are concerned. Twenty-five thousand dollars in cash is offered in prizes at the coming exhibition to be held in Louisville Sept. 16 to 21.

There are 15 exhibit departments. All of these departments are in charge of members of the State Board of Agriculture. The Hon. Hubert Venable, Chairman of the Board, who is now Commissioner of Agriculture, has for his departments, poultry, pigs, cattle, dogs, tobacco, plants, flowers, horticulture, farm implements and machinery. The other departments are headed as follows: Dairy cattle, sheep and goats, Professor M. A. Seay, Jr., in charge of the Experiment Station at Lexington; swine and woman's work, C. N. McCreary, Dayton, Livingston county; beef cattle, W. R. Moorman, Jr., Glendale, Breckinridge county; horses, mules and calves, Guthrie M. Wilson, Harlowsburg, Nelson county; field seed, grain, vegetables and melons, William Adams, Cynthiana, Harrison county. Other members of the Board, who are not assigned to exhibit departments but who are active in their departments in making the fair a success, are Lawrence Jones, Louisville, Debra Breckinridge, Lexington, and John C. Mayo, Paducah, Ky. In many departments, the members in charge have appointed superintendents and assistant superintendents. These are as follows: Mules, W. J. Stumma, Harlowsburg, as superintendent; jack stock, W. S. Gibson, Springfield, superintendent; swine, H. E. Johnson, Lexington, superintendent; poultry and pigeons, John H. Good, Louisville, superintendent; Robert H. Yamp, Louisville, assistant superintendent; vegetables and melons, S. H. Sals, Louisville, superintendent; field seed and grain, H. C. Lovelady, Boston, superintendent; Geo. D. Karsner, Lexington, assistant superintendent; tobacco, M. H. Provan, Ghent, superintendent; S. R. Robertson, Calhoun, assistant superintendent; plants and flowers, Henry Nantz, Louisville, superintendent; woman's department, Mrs. Evelyn Porter, Louisville, superintendent; Miss Julia Dyer, Louisville, and Miss Iva M. McCreary, Louisville, as superintendents; horticulture, M. F. Johnson, Buckner, superintendent; J. H. Bates, Buechel, assistant superintendent; cattle dog show, C. H. Thomas, Louisville, superintendent; farm implements and machinery, J. B. Walker, Hopkinsville, superintendent.

MUCH INTEREST IN TOBACCO

Seven Hundred and Seventy Dollars Offered at the Kentucky State Fair in Premiums.

The money offered in premiums at the Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville Sept. 16 to 21, is the largest in the history of the fair. Seven hundred and seventy dollars is given by the State Fair Board, about equally divided between burlap and dark types. The Louisville Board of Trade has added to this $250 for premiums as follows:

Burlap Type.
For best sample representing household of not less than 800 pounds net, Bright Leaf Tobacco, $75.
For best sample representing household of not less than 800 pounds net, Red Leaf Tobacco, $50.

Dark Type.
For best sample representing household of not less than 1200 pounds net, of Pure Dark Tobacco, $75.
For the best sample representing household of not less than 1600 pounds net, of Treated Tobacco, $50.

Samplers of tobacco competing for these awards are to be drawn and awarded by the Louisville Cigar Tobacco Exchange Association, not limited to crop, and open to all exhibitors.

THE SPORTING WORLD

Lawn Tennis Talk.

The winner of the all-congress tennis tournament at Newport, Rhode Island, was play William J. Clothier of Philadelphia for the national title in the challenge round.

Clothier is a young Philadelphia millionaire, and his victory at Newport

W. J. CLOTHIER, AMERICAN TENNIS CHAMPION.

last year was a highly popular one among the members of the Four Hundred. Clothier is tall and muscular and fast. His long reach is a material aid to him in tennis, giving him a few extra inches over many less favored opponents.

Bennington Through With Turf.
Admitting that his fortune has been impaired, but saying that he has never looked upon Bennington as a lost property, the best known man on the eastern turf and known in the financial world, declared recently that racing is one of the worst businesses in the world, and that he has quit the track forever because, in his opinion, two years more will see the whole racing business outlawed by the New York legislature.

"Racing in New York is as dishonest as any business," he said.

Those Race Track Kickers.
Race track frequenters in the east are becoming very scarce in the opinion of the judges because the horses are not always placed as some of the better ones are not fair enough to admit their defeat.

It is not an unusual thing for a man who is 200 feet away from a race track to see a horse in a race which he has been betting on. Only the man in the judge's box is in a position to decide the winner, and he has to be alert and have his eyes fixed on the finishing line in order to make the decision, and yet he is always some 200 feet from the race.

It would be the game if the race tracks would put a stop to these kickers by throwing away the money which they are not fair enough to admit their defeat.

Chance's Latest Guess.
Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago National champions in baseball, who has been in the game for many years, has made a duplicate of last year's team. He stated the other day that the little army of players under his directing hand this season will repeat in history the feat that was accomplished last fall when they won the National League title.

Next he claimed that a record battle between the Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals, which he said would be played on the 1907 baseball field in the mid-western metropolis, would terminate in a victory for the Cubs. Said he, "If it comes down to the Cubs and Sox again next fall, and we think it will, well, there'll be another story to tell, all right."

During an Attack.
Owing to the small caliber of the bullet used during the Russo-Japanese war many soldiers did not know that they had been struck by them until the force of an attack had been broken by the attack of Muckdon a company of Japanese infantry, of a strength of 100 men, attacked a Russian party holding the opposite end of the trench. The attack was carried through with great spirit until the Japanese arrived under the river bank. The Russian plans evacuated the position, evidently believing that their fire had been without any effect.

It was only then that forty out of the ninety Japanese discovered that they had been wounded during the advance. The enemy counted only ninety, the same discovery in his own case by seeing the water of the river reddened by his blood.

When the Hair Falls

Then it's time to act. No time to study, to read, to experiment! You want to save your hair, and save it quickly, too! So make up your mind this very minute that if your hair ever comes out you will use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the scalp healthy. The hair stays in. It cannot do anything else. It's nature's way.

Prince and the Parrot.
It is doubtful whether the Prince of Wales has ever been so much soiled as he was by his pet parrot when he visited the mansion of a certain Highland peer the other week.

He had inspected his friend's fine old house and then he expressed a desire to see the stables. So he went off, the groom being wholly unprepared for his visit.

Had they expected that they would have taken the precaution of putting to other quarters a fine green parrot whose cage hung from one of the rafters?

When his royal highness entered the stable the parrot greeted him with "Well, and so you? No are you?"

The prince was too much surprised even to smile, and the parrot went on: "Don't stand staring there, aggie. Blow my bottom! Not d'ye want? Ain't ye got a tongue?"

But at the moment the host interposed with a request that the prince should come to the garage to inspect a new motor car, and when they returned to the stable the parrot's cage was missing.—Exchange.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Indian Chinnee Sauce.
Take a pint of vinegar, add to it half a pound of brown sugar and boil them for ten minutes. Then add a cup of corn meal, and stir it well. Add a half pound of tamarind, shelled and cut into small pieces, and when the mixture is thick, add a half pound of sugar and a half pound of butter. Mix all together and put into covered jars, which will keep for a long time.

To Remove Tan.
This jelly will be found very efficacious for removing tan and softening the skin. It is made by mixing a glass of water, four ounces of glycerin, an ounce of tincture of benzoin, two drams of rose water, and a few drops of lemon juice. Shake well and use.

To Trace Patterns.
If you want to trace a pattern on dark material lay it on the goods and with a rather large pin prick all over the outlines of the pattern at intervals of about half an inch. Then, holding it carefully in place, rub all over with chalk. Take off the pattern and you will see the tracing outlined by the chalk spots. With a fine brush paint the lines between the spots with white, and when dry it is ready for working.

Jackpot For Range Rider.
One of the best things for a cowboy is an abacus jacket for the range rider. This jacket will keep the rider warm in winter, and in summer it will keep him cool by keeping the temperature of the jacket at a more tolerable point, and at the same time it will be light and easy to wear when the fire is low, as it is often maintained during the summer months.

Blinded by an Owl.
As Mrs. George Burke of Reber, York county, Pa., was housing her chickens for the night an enormous barn owl swooped down at her and she was terribly torn and has lost one eye and will probably lose the other.

Almost Eaten Up by Mosquitoes.
Bridget Collins, eighty years old, who was born in Ireland in the Bronx, New York city, was found in a swamp ten miles away from her home, almost eaten up by mosquitoes.

Now Jacket is Fastened.
The covering is cut and shaped ready for the jacket. It is made in two sections, and the edges are supplied with buttons so that it can be fastened in place. The jacket is made of a material which is not only light and easy to wear, but it is also very strong and durable.

The Worn Soap Bar.
When washing and the bar of soap gets so small that it is difficult to hold, slipping down the following device will hold the bar of soap in place. It is made of a material which is not only light and easy to wear, but it is also very strong and durable.

EATS LUNCHEON AT BELCONUT

Heavy Swells of Newport Island to Function in Honor of Coney Island.

Oliver H. P. Belmont had as the guest of honor at a recent luncheon at Belmont, R. I., Consul, the almost chimpanzee owned by Frank Bonsul, the Coney Island showman.

Men and women whose names are in the social circles of Newport, both of which are in the vicinity of Belmont, were invited to the luncheon.

Among those who gathered in the dining room of Belmont, the Belmont estate, to see upon the money enjoying the hospitality of the master of the house were Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall, Miss Lila Robinson, Lieutenant Stewart, James de Wolf Cutting and Mrs. Stevenson.

Oliver H. P. Belmont is a close friend of Mr. Dyer, recently received through the latter an invitation to be delivered at the Belmont estate, and he was invited to the luncheon.

The invitation was accepted, and he was invited to the luncheon. He was invited to the luncheon, and he was invited to the luncheon.

There were children present at the luncheon, and all showed much interest in the chimpanzee.

Before the vines were brought in, however, Mr. Belmont patted Consul on the back, and Consul patted Belmont on the head, with a deal of cordiality.

Consul placed his head, with an affectionate nod, upon Belmont's shoulder.

As they were climbing a particularly big piece of mountain rock, suddenly Consul was pulled back by a rope of seven or eight men.

Turning, all saw an enormous wildcat, or catamount, cooping up the road. The brute was unusually stout and the big cat was merely creeping up, while the

ARRESTED FOR HATLESSNESS

Man Trying Nature Cure Is Taken For a Lunatic.

Because his wife was jokingly twitted by her friends for having married a baldheaded hatcher, Eustis Huff of Rochester, Minn., is raising a crop of hair under circumstances that would turn gray the "wool" of an ordinary mortal.

His hair has been arrested three times as a result of efforts to cover the bare spot.

Huff's wife was as barren as a hard land but a few weeks ago. It is now partially covered by a fuzzy growth that is a promising indication that he will soon have a head of hair that will be the envy of his fellows.

Huff is in the habit of walking ten to twenty miles at a stretch. While he began to go without a hat so that the sunbath and rain might propagate hair on his head his troubles began.

An asylum for the insane is located there, and on three occasions Huff has been taken into custody in as many ways and under a host of different circumstances.

Huff, who is manager of the local gas works, threatens to prepare a card from the superintendent of the asylum stating that he is perfectly harmless.

SNAKE IN HER BASKET.
Fair Foreigner Carries Rattler and Bites Her.

"Nice little berries, very cheap, only twenty cents a quart," was the solicitation of Anna Kisevage, a Lithuanian foreigner, in front of a prominent residence in Centralia, Pa.

The mistress of the house noticed that the berries were husky and that only two or three quarts remained in the basket. She therefore said she would take them all, and the berries were poured into a quart measure.

While the last quart was being poured out the purchaser, fainting from fright when a big rattlesnake crawled from the bottom of the basket of the berries.

She recovered a moment later when she was alone in her room, so she hurriedly called a neighbor to help her.

Miss Kisevage, who is a native of Lithuania, explained that she carried the serpent while her husband and she were in the forest.

She was taking it home in order to preserve it as a specimen for medicinal purposes.

WOMAN AND FASHION

For Summer Outings.

Cool and exceedingly pretty is the frock of white linen here shown in the accompanying cut. It is not of the stiffest kind of linen, but a crop of full finish and hangs in graceful folds.

It has been arranged to cover the bare spot.
